Description: When the Smoke Clears: A Story of Brotherhood, Resilience and Hopes shares the inspiring accounts of Gil, Ofer, and Elad - young Israeli war veterans whose unthinkable battle experiences leave them with life-altering mental and physical scars. Returning to society, their experiences and trauma disconnect them from all they once valued, turning their lives upside down.

When all seems lost, a revolutionary idea gives them the hope, courage, tools and community to survive, and to embrace their identities as heroes both on and off the battlefield. Banding together in a family of wounded soldiers, they learn to face their obstacles together and discover that in conquering their pain, they might have more to offer than ever before.

This program is free and open to the community thanks to the generosity of the Jewish Federation of Northern New Jersey.
